HAD A LIVING REMINDER.

"About the greatest man that ever lived in this community was Skinner—broad-minded, big-hearted and brilliant—and yet he died with all his talents and goodness unsuspected." "How did you come to find out about it?" "I married his widow."—Pick-Me-Up.

"Why don't you go to work?" "Work," rejoined Meandering Mike. "Look at de thousands of poor fellows dat is lookin' fur work an' feelin' miserable widout it. Now work ain't necessary to me, an' I ain't goin' to butt in an' reach fur it merely fur de sake of havin' somethin' to brag about."—Washington Star.

"I hear," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "that Miss Wadsworth has taken up the study of Gaelic." "Has she?" replied her hostess, as she kicked back a corner of the $300 rug. "Josiah wanted me to take it up, but I never was no hand for cards."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Mother (to bedraggled little daughter)—Good heavens, child, where have you been? Child—Bobby and I tumbled into the pond. Mother—But where's poor Bobby? Child—Oh, I expect he's out by now.—Punch.

ROSE PEST IS FERTILIZED AWAY

Chemist Lyon Has Found a New and Sure Way of Keeping the Beetles Out.

Ralph Lyon, the chemist, who lives in the suburb of College Hills, is raising as beautiful roses as Honolulu ever grew in the days before the Japanese beetle came. He discovered a fertilizer which seems to make the ground inhospitable to the destructive bug and at the same time forces the growth of the rosebush. Apparently he has solved the problem.

"It is generally supposed," said Mr. Lyon the other day, "that choice roses can not now be raised in Honolulu, owing to the depredations of the Japanese beetles. These pests come from their hiding-places at night and swarm upon the rosebushes, eating up the green leafage and often stripping a tender young bush in a single night."

"There are four methods generally in vogue for fighting them. One is a netting protection at night. This is expensive and is hard to manage successfully with any but small bushes. The second is to spray the leaves with a solution of poison, which seems to have very little effect. The third is to visit the plants each night, collect the hundreds of beetles swarming thereon and kill them. This is laborious and unpleasant and ineffectual, as the beetles reproduce very rapidly. The fourth is to distribute in your rose-bed beetles inoculated by the Experiment Station with their parasite enemy. This has accomplished some good in the wet winter months, but not all that was expected of it. An entomologist tells me that this parasite pest has spread all over the island and has done as much good as we can expect of it."

"One year ago I started a rose garden. In spite of my nightly raids, the beetles kept the bushes stripped of leaves and to all appearances had killed the plants. This discouraging experience led me to taking a new tack with the use of fertilizers. One sold in the local market was applied by dissolving it in water and sprinkling it on the ground among the plants. My idea was to force the growth of leafage faster than the beetles could destroy it; at the same time keeping up the nightly warfare upon them."

"In a few weeks the plants began to send out new vigorous shoots, and, much to my surprise, the beetles began to diminish rapidly in numbers. Inside of six weeks after the first application of the fertilizer the beetles entirely disappeared, and the plants were all in beautiful form. "Whether the beetles do not care to eat this forced leafage or whether they will not live in the ground that has been saturated with a solution of this fertilizer I do not pretend to know. But I do know that for over six months I have been unable to find one Japanese beetle among my roses and the leafage is entirely unmarked by them."

"The past six months may have been an off season for these beetles. This I do not know. The experiment will proceed, however, and at the end of another six months I will again report results. I hope the above may be of interest to discouraged rose growers."

"The Chinese Students' Alliance of Hawaii held its annual conference and elected its officers for the ensuing year at its headquarters on the Chinese Y. M. C. A. premises last evening. President Chang Loy gave a lengthy and thorough report, which showed that much work had been done last year and that the Alliance is in a prosperous condition."

CHINESE ALLIANCE ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The most significant act done by the new board of officers was in establishing the Alliance as a branch of the World's Chinese Students' Federation of their fatherland, which was organized about three years ago by the Chinese students of English and American colleges and universities at Shanghai. Great credit is due for the good and efficient services rendered by Miss Mabel Kau, F. W. Damon, Chas. Ahfook Wong and the retiring president Chang Loy, whose efforts have left the prospects for the future of the Alliance bright and encouraging.

Tom Ayoy has been elected president to succeed Chang Loy. He is one of the educated and promising young Hawaiian Chinese in Honolulu, and will be no small factor in shaping the destiny of the Alliance for the coming year.

The officers chosen were as follows: President, Tom Ayoy; vice president, Kim Tong Ho; recording secretary, Mon Yin Chung; corresponding secretary, K. Y. Ching; treasurer, Joseph Y. T. Zane; auditor, Samuel Alina Leong; editor-in-chief of the Alliance organ, Mabel Kau; assistant editor, Chang Loy; and sergeants-at-arms, C. Hung Yau and Ah Bung Dung.

Green—"I can't understand why De Short wants a divorce. His wife had nearly half a million when he married her." Brown—"Yes, and she has every dollar of it yet. That's the trouble."—Chicago Daily News.

"You loved her very much?" "So much that when her first husband died I married her that I might share her grief and so lessen it." "And how did it work?" "Fine! I'm sorrier now for his death than she is."—Houston Post.

DYING IS JUST A PHYSICAL DELIGHT

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 29.—A special to The Journal from Albert Lea, Minnesota, says:

"Dying is simply delightful," O. N. Olberg, of Albert Lea, says so and he ought to know for he has had the unique experience of being pronounced dead by physicians. Twenty-six minutes afterward he astonished the surgeons by coming to life again, and he is now apparently as well as ever.

"It is a strangely pleasant experience," said Olberg today. "If it really feels like that to die, one might wish for nine lives, like a cat. Dying would be as pleasant a sensation as one could know. I felt no pain at all. It seemed much like the sensation I experienced once when I took ether."

The feeling when his heart stopped beating, as the physicians testify it actually did for twenty-six minutes, is difficult for Olberg to describe, but he says it is a delightful sense of relaxation, as if the soul were leaving the body.

The physicians said death was caused by rheumatism of the heart.

BORN.

SIDERS—March 13, to the wife of Chas. F. Siders, a son.

THE WORRIED WOMEN.

"They say men must work and women must weep; but alas, in this too busy world women often have to work and weep at the same time. Their holidays are too few and their work heavy and monotonous. It makes them nervous and irritable. The depressed and worried woman loses her appetite and grows thin and feeble. Once in a while she has spells of palpitation and has to lie up for a day or two. If some disease like influenza or malarial fever happens to prevail she is almost certain to have an attack of it, and that often paves the way for chronic troubles of the throat, lungs and other organs; and there is no saying what the end may be. Let the tired and overladen woman rest as much as possible; and, above all, place at her command a bottle of WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION

a true and sure remedy for the ills and maladies of women. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Search the world over and you will find nothing to equal it. Taken before meals it improves the nutritive value of ordinary foods by making them easier to assimilate, and has carried hope and good cheer into thousands of homes. It is absolutely reliable and effective in Nervous Dyspepsia, Impaired Nutrition, Low Vitality, Wasting Conditions, Melancholy, Chlorosis, Scrofula, and all troubles of the Throat and Lungs. Dr. E. J. Boyes says: "I have found it a preparation of great merit. In a recent case a patient gained nearly twenty pounds in two months' treatment, in which it was the principal remedial agent." It carries the guarantee of reliability and cannot fail or disappoint you. At chemists

SOME PUBLIC MATTERS.

F. P. Sargent, Commissioner of Immigration, has written to H. P. Wood, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and the Hawaii Promotion Committee, suggesting that the mass of unemployed people on the mainland should form a source of increase of the industrial population of this Territory which might by proper means be developed. Mentioning the large expenditure incurred by the local Board of Immigration in bringing Portuguese and Spaniards into the islands last year, whereby "several shiploads of desirable immigrants" were secured, Mr. Sargent says: "Now, it is my belief that if something of the same kind could be done with reference to the mainland of the United States, the board would be able to get an excellent class of people, of the nationalities most desired, who would be willing to cast their lot with the new Territory, and become part of its permanent population, and people, at the same time, who had been a sufficient length of time in the United States to have become somewhat imbued with American ideas, so that on going to Hawaii they would become very progressive citizens."

In pursuance of orders received early in the week by Captain Humphrey, U. S. Depot Quartermaster here, to make preparations for duplicating the buildings on Fort Shafter reservation, Kahauiki, Honolulu, doubling the size of the post, bids for that work, involving an expenditure of about $300,000, will be advertised for in Honolulu and San Francisco in two months or so hence.

Captain Otwell, U. S. Engineer, will begin this week the work of constructing a wharf at Halawa, Pearl Harbor, at a cost of $10,000, for Army purposes.

On April 8 Captain Otwell will give a public hearing at Kahului, Maui, on the question of establishing harbor lines at that port. Arguments submitted in writing will be laid before the Secretary of War.

A joint cablegram from the commercial bodies has been sent to Washington to urge the passage of the bill permitting the carrying of passengers in foreign vessels between Hawaii and the Pacific Coast for a number of years or pending further Congressional action.

The Knudsen brothers of Kauai have withdrawn their offer to purchase the Mana lands.

The trustees of the Chamber of Commerce have expressed their approval of the plan of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, as proposed to L. A. Thurston and R. W. Shingle, to reserve passenger accommodation especially in Honolulu.

On Thursday an event of interisland commerce occurred in the arrival from San Francisco of the new steamer Mauna Kea after a passage of eight days. She was built especially for the route between Honolulu and Hilo, whereon the iron steamer Kinau has run for a quarter of a century, and is the largest and fastest vessel in the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co.'s fleet. The Mauna Kea will be greatly appreciated by tourists visiting the Volcano.

The transport Thomas kept up wireless communication with San Francisco until more than 1300 miles out from that port.
